A Note of Thanks

Dear Friends,

Happy Thanksgiving!

As I sit down to write this letter I recognize there is so much to be thankful for. Life seems to be returning to a tentative “normal,” although if you’re like me, this feels both comforting and honestly, a bit unnerving. Will I ever again walk into a large gathering and not question whether or not I’m going to walk out with something extra I didn’t want or expect?! But I digress...

If you’ve known us for any length of time, you are aware this ministry operates from a foundation of truth, love, and prayer. No hype, no massive social media presence, no spectacular marketing campaigns, no dogged requests for money. Truthfully, according to everything I read about nonprofit sustainability, we are technically doing everything WRONG.

But God...

In this overwhelming, changing world there is a profound need for safe places, for practical expressions of Christ’s love, and for consistent reminders that grief, gratitude and grace often live side by side.

What I know for certain is that through the provision of Christ and the partnership with you, His people, Safe Place Ministries continues to remain open and to serve those sent our way.

On behalf of all those whose lives you have touched please accept my heartfelt thank you.

Gratefully,

Kapri

Executive Director
